Great Little Pacer Fails to Break World's Record at Brighton Beach—Twinkle Wins $5,000 Stake—Susie J. Takes Novelty Race and Breaks Record.

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, Aug. 14.—Dan Patch failed to break the world's record of 1:59 1-4, in his trial against time. He did the mile in 2:00 3-4, equalling his own mark.

Twinkle won the $5,000 Brighton Stakes. Prince Albert won the first heat of his pacing match with Annconda, in 2:03 1-4.

(Special to The Evening World.) BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The chance to see Dan Patch, the greatest of all pacers, against the world's record mark of 1:59 1-4 proved a great attraction. An hour before the gates to the track were opened the crowd began to form lines leading up to the ticket offices. When they were opened the rush was like that at Gravesend course on Brooklyn Handicap day.

The crowd was a big one, and it was still swelling during the contests in the minor events. When Dan Patch was driven out on the track it was a conservative guess to say that 15,000 persons were present in the stands.

The record trial was the third event on the card, the afternoon's sport beginning with a heat for 2:10 trotters. The race was on the novelty plan and as has been the rule, the bookmakers were very busy taking the bets of the thousands that swarmed the ring.

The Talk of All Dan Patch. The women folks and non-bettors contented themselves with conjecturing on whether Dan Patch would break the record or not or arguing on the relative merits of the two pacers, Anna

SIXTH RACE—Mary McCafferty 1, Orion 2, Waukegan 3.

(Special to The Evening World.) SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—There is no doubt now that Mexican, recently purchased by R. T. Wilson, Jr., at the sale of the Mackay horses on Tuesday, has gone lame. The story came to life yesterday, but was scouted in many quarters. In fact, Tom Healey, the trainer for Mr. Wilson's horses, himself denied the story, and that was accepted by many to be the truth.

But the fact that Mexican is lame and he will not be a starter in the Futurity; more, that Mexican was lame before he was sent to Saratoga and was practically an unsound horse when he went into the sales ring, but the fact was not announced to bidders.

This statement is made on the authority of an expert who saw the horse going to a few days after his race at Brighton. This being the case, there is no question that Mr. Wilson could recover the price paid for the horse if he so desired, but at the same time there is no likelihood (Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The wind-up of the New York-Cincinnati series brought 4,000 fans out to say good-by to the Giants, who start to-night on their Western trip. The captain-managers, McGraw and Kelley, were not in the game, both being in Baltimore, ostensibly to attend a meeting of the American League Club directors, but in reality to raid the Cleveland American League players. Manager McGraw is after Lajole and Flick. If money can land the pair of heavy hitters, McGraw will have them with him when he brings the Giants for the Labor Day games.

The New York Club is already signing up its pitching staff for next season. Mathews has put his name to a 1903 contract and receives a handsome bonus over his present salary. Matty was flirting with the St. Louis Americans, but fell short to the fact that the 1903 Giants were likely to be permanent winners, and decided to stay here.

Manager McGraw is sure of the men he brought with him from Baltimore, but he has made no effort to retain the services of his present bunch of out and inners.

Brennan was in charge of the Giants this afternoon, playing in right, with Bowerman receiving Roscoe Miller and Johnny Dunn taking McGraw's place at short. Tommy Corcoran relied on Phil

REARDON GETS A COURT WRIT.

Justice Dickey granted a writ of certiorari to-day requiring Commissioner of Police Partridge and Deputy Thurston to return to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court their proceedings in the matter of the discharge of Police Captain John Reardon, of the Greenpoint avenue station, about a month ago. Reardon was tried before Thurston on charges of entering saloons when on duty, causing false entries to be made on the books at his station and otherwise breaking the rules.

INCREASE IN IN SANES CASES.

The insanity experts at Bellevue Hospital are puzzled over the increased number of persons who have been admitted there during the last few days to have their sanity tested, and also over the fact that the majority of those received for observation during the last three days have been women. Thirteen cases were admitted to-day, of whom ten were women; eight were received yesterday, of whom four were women, and eleven were received on Monday, of whom seven were women.

The Machine Dashes Against a Tree Near Evreux, France—Brother of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and His Wife Meet Death Instantly—Chauffeur Made Insane by the Fright.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair of New York and San Francisco were instantly killed this afternoon by the collision of their swiftly moving automobile with a tree fifteen miles from Evreux, France. Their chauffeur, who was uninjured, is a raving maniac as the result of the shock.

Mr. Fair was a brother of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was Miss Virginia Fair. With his wife he has been living in Paris for several years.

Their automobile, which was of forty-five horse power and very fast, has attracted considerable attention. Mr. Fair had travelled in it from Trouville to Paris and back again in one day. Both were devoted to the sport of automobilism and took keen delight in high-speed tests.

Killed at Same Moment.

During the racing week the Fairs had been staying at Trouville. They were returning to this city to-day when the accident happened. Without warning their automobile swerved and crashed into a tree at full speed. Husband and wife were killed at the same moment. The bodies were taken to Evreux and notification of the accident was sent to Mr. Vanderbilt and relatives in the United States.

Mrs. Fair was Caroline D. Smith of Oakland, Cal. The Fairs have not resided in the United States for any extended period since their marriage. They were very well known in the American colony here. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fair were taken to the Chateau Buisson du Mai.

ACCIDENT CUTS OFF TEMPESTUOUS CAREER.

By the death of Charles L. Fair and his wife two careers that have been more than usually tempestuous were cut short. For four years past little has been heard of Charles Fair and his wife in New York. Information from Paris was to the effect that they were living quietly and enjoying to the full the great wealth that came to young Fair from the estate of his father.

Went to Europe. His father was furlous. His sisters declared that he was lost to them forever. Secure in a provision in the will of his mother that he was to get $100,000 when he reached the age of thirty, young Fair paid little attention to his family and besides he thought he would share equally with his sisters in the estate of his father.

Cut Off by Father's Will.

In this last expectation he was disappointed. When Senator Fair died in 1894 it was found that he had cut his son off with $100,000 and had placed his estate in the hands of trustees, who were to give the children the income.

Then came astounding revelations of the life of Senator Fair. Claimants for his estate bobbed up everywhere. A Mrs. Nettie Craven claimed to be his widow and cut up a determined fight for his millions.

To successfully combat these claimants it became necessary for the brother and two sisters to get together. Although Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Oelrichs never recognized the wife of their brother they became friendly with him, and finally all three united in a fight to break the will.

Previous to this Charles Fair made an agreement to refrain from drinking for a period of five years. In consideration of the fulfillment of this promise he was to have a large share in the estate. It is a matter of record that he took the Keeley cure, and that he never took another drink of intoxicating liquor. His wife proved to be a model helpmeet.

To her is given much of the credit of reforming her wild young husband.

Broke Father's Will.

The children of Senator Fair were successful in breaking the will. By a recent decision of the California courts they came into possession of the entire estate, which has increased enormously in value since it was estimated at $20,000,000 when the Senator died. A settlement was made with Mrs. Craven and the troubles over the money of the old man were all settled.

Charles Fair and his wife were in San Francisco last winter, leaving there in May to return to Paris. Mr. Fair had bought a large tract of property on Riverside Drive, and announced his intention of building a mansion there. He was to have returned to New York this winter and taken up his residence in this city for the future.

It is a peculiar coincidence that John W. Mackay, a son of one of Senator Fair's partners, was killed in France a few years ago near the scene of the automobile wreck that proved fatal to Charles Fair. Mr. Mackay was thrown from his horse and broke his neck. The elder Mackay died a few weeks ago in London.

Fiedler show that the total value of the Lorillard estate as turned over to them was $1,866,764, and that the total amount disbursed amounts to $216,425, which includes the payment of taxes, debts and other liabilities. CHECK FOR $750 WAS WORTHLESS

Henry Cole Quinby Asks for a Warrant for James B. Jordan Because of It.

At the solicitation of Henry Cole Quinby, a lawyer, of No. 46 Cedar street, Magistrate Hogan, in Centre street Court, issued a summons returnable Monday against James B. Jordan to-day. Mr. Quinby wanted a warrant against Mr. Jordan for passing a worthless check for $750, but the Magistrate said that perhaps the man complained of could give a satisfactory explanation, as it appeared to be a business transaction.

"I met Mr. Jordan in a Fifth avenue club," said Mr. Quinby. "He told me he was treasurer of the Industrial Water Company, of Thompsonville, Conn., which, he said, was backed by Mr. Snow of the Standard Oil Company. "In the course of our conversation he said he had a check for $750, and as he knew no one around there he could not get it cashed. I took him down to the Phoenix National Bank and got the money on the check for him. This was last Saturday. On Monday the check came back with the notification that there were no funds to meet it." Mr. Quinby did not give any further information about Mr. Jordan. He took the summons away with him and could not be found later in the day at his office.

TWO MEN SHOT IN FIERCE MINE RIOT

Deputies Said to Have Fired Without Provocation—One Story that Miners Attacked.

(Special to The Evening World.) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 14.—A number of deputies who had been on a debauch during the night, made a murderous assault upon a crowd of strikers who had gathered on the public highway to watch the non-union men resume work at the Warnke washery, at Duryea, this afternoon.

Two of the strikers were seriously and perhaps fatally wounded. Nine volleys were fired from the guns of the deputies and a riot ensued in which sticks, stones and other missiles were thrown in every direction.

The Duryea authorities were unable to check the rush of the maddened crowd surrounding the washery, and Sheriff Jacobs was notified to hurry a posse.

Nine of the deputies were placed under arrest and taken to the borough jail. An attack of the jail is feared.

At 3:30 the Sheriff's posse was on the ground, and Vice-President Roscavage of the United Mine-Workers had succeeded in dispersing the crowd. The men who were shot are a Lithuanian and an English-speaking miner. Their names could not be learned.
